OLYMPIANS ON STAMPS ISSUED BY THEIR COUNTRIES

This is one of my topical stamp collections. It contains more than a thousand stamps issued by various countries to commemorate their Olympic athletes. Some stamps depict specific Olympic achievements of their athletes, while others simply depict athletes themselves. In fact, some of the depicted Olympians are famous not for being athletes but for being members of royal families or military leaders.

The stamps are shown in alphabetical country order, and in chronological order within each country. The numbers listed are according to Scott catalog by default, unless Scott does not list them -- in that case, the numbers are according to Michel catalog, and such numbers are prefixed by "Mi".

Each stamp or set is accompanied by a note. If a stamp commemorates specific Olympic achievement(-s), the note lists the details of said achievement(-s). If, however, a stamp commemorates an Olympian without listing any of his/her Olympic accomplishments, the note contains the athlete's short Olympic biography. If the Olympian won more than one medal at a specific Olympiad, his/her record at said Olympiad will be listed as "(g+s+b)", where "g" will stand for the number of gold medals, "s" for the number of silver medals and "b" for the number of bronze medals. (For example, "(2+0+1)" will mean "two gold medals, no silver medals and one bronze medal"). By default, it is assumed that the country represented by the athlete is the same country that issued the stamp -- otherwise, the country represented is listed in parentheses.

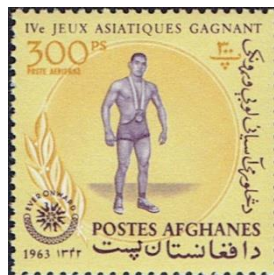

The collection is by no means complete, and at this time I am not really trying to make it so, for it is nearly an impossible task, especially considering a plethora of stamps commemorating various celebrities and head of states who happen to be Olympians.

Enjoy!

AFTERWORD

Of course, there are thousands more stamps that depict specific Olympians with no ties to the countries that produced these stamps. They are not the subject of this collection. However, you can find plenty of information on all the stamps that commemorate Olympic athletes here:
